

Needhams were selected to support the 2010 Higher Education Business Continuity Network (HEBCoN) annual conference and delivered both an excellent exercise and workshops. A notable feature of Needham's engagement with HEBCoN was the consistently high standard and attention to detail of every aspect of their delivery; from bid response, which clearly understood the requirement and proposed an exciting solution, to proactive, flexible discussions on the detail of their delivery, through to a highly professional delivery of a challenging, time constrained exercise that engaged all the diverse range of delegates to deliver a rewarding learning experience with polished professionalism.
